STUDENT AFFAIRS ASSESSMENT AWARD

Purpose
To recognize staff members’ outstanding work in the area of assessment; encouraging programs and/or services that enhance student learning in the co-curricular; and promoting promising practices in assessment, including diverse assessment methods.

Who is Eligible?
- All exempt and nonexempt employees, except those on the UNCG Assessment Council, unless a team nomination is submitted
- Nominees must be presently employed at the University of North Carolina Greensboro (UNCG) as a staff member in the Division of Student Affairs
- Individual nominees or teams must not have received the Assessment of Student Learning Award within the past three years

Criteria
Recipients are recognized for their outstanding service in the area of assessment at UNCG. The selection committee considers, but is not limited to, the following criteria:
- Provides a direct impact on students or student groups by supporting gains in student learning and/or improvement of services provided to students
- Shows dedication to intentionally using assessment results through continuous data collection
- Employs assessment practices that are linked to the University and Division of Student Affairs goals and student learning domains

Reward and Recognition Given
- Either an individual or a team will be selected
- The selected team or individual will receive recognition on a perpetual plaque

Nomination Process
- Nominations will be accepted through April 10, 2017, 11:59 pm CST. Nominations must be submitted through the Annual Staff Awards website: https://studentaffairs.uncg.edu/forms/index.php?id=607
- Nomination submissions must include completion of the online nomination form
- Only information provided in the nomination submission will be considered in selecting award recipients, unless additional information is requested from the review committee.
- Any student, student organization, faculty, or staff member at UNCG may nominate an individual.