- Military-Affiliated Services (MAS)
- Recreation & Wellness (RecWell)
- Student Health Services (SHS)

Are there particular Division of Student Affairs offices that have made a significant impact on your time here?

Rhema Hedgpeth, Rocky Mount, NC
Major: Therapeutic Recreation/Pre-Occupational Therapy

“The Office of Leadership and Civic Engagement has allowed me to serve in many avenues in Spartan days of Service, MLK Days Of Service, and the Leadership Challenges. Doing this has truly helped me to see the value and benefit of using my abilities to give back.”

Logan Varker, Wilmington, NC
Major: International and Global Studies and Spanish

“Taking advantage of the Counseling Center since last spring has been one of my best decisions. Going to counseling has helped me develop a healthier view of the world and myself as well as to enact better strategies to work through stress.”

Division of Student Affairs
ANNUAL REPORT 2017-18
The following programs are a few ways that Student Affairs empowers students to be prepared to meet their current and future goals. Specifically, the following programs are a few which were designed to develop 21st century skills:

SMART Planning
- 87% of survey respondents met at least one goal.
- 87% could also name one resource to help achieve their goal.

Civic Engagement
- 852 pints of blood were donated and 348 hours donated by EUC staff.

Five
- 125 small acts of kindness.
- 10,583 service hours contributed by Leadership Challenge students.

Student engagement is at the core of our work to help students find belonging at UNC Greensboro, and to know they matter. Engaged students apply classroom learning and develop skills critical to employment, graduate, and professional school success.

Student Affairs programs are intended to enrich the experience of our students. The following examples represent a few ways this occurred in the past academic year:

There is a very positive perception of mental health events and programming with respondents agreeing that they helped reduce stigma around mental health challenges and treatment (95.6%), increased awareness of health support available on campus (90.3%) and increased their connection to their fellow students (80.0%).

The Dean of Students Office provides Care Contacts to students who need support related to their academic success. 1,071 contacts were initiated in 2017-2018. 86% of survey respondents felt that the CAP office, I have received a lot of support during my time as Vice President of SGA for which I am grateful. CAP employees embody the Culture of Care here at the G, and they are instrumental in developing student leaders.”

The Office of Intercultural Engagement hosts a Safe Zone training: The trainings are focused on helping students, faculty, and staff create a more supportive environment for LGBTQ+ students. Because of the Safe Zone training, students felt more comfortable with their ability to support others in coming out and in their understanding of inclusive practices.

Green Zone Training
- 96.8% of participants reported a deeper understanding of military culture and were better prepared to help military affiliated students.
